"Eddie" Sullivan Had Easy
Time of It, Due to Poor
Base Running

The first game of the five-game play-off series to determine the championship of the Bristol Twilight League went to the team representing the Rohm and Haas Chemical Company. The winning aggregation shut out St. Ann's, 6-0, on Landreth's field before the largest crowd of the season, estimated at 500.

Eddie Sullivan, southpaw moundsman for the winners, gave up six hits to the St. Ann's batsmen. He had easy sailing throughout the game (thanks to some dumb base-running of the St. Ann's players.) Eight St. Ann's players went down on strikes and so good was Sullivan's control that he did not issue a pass.

The winning moundsman had to be good to capture the contest for his opponent was Mike DeRisi, the league's leading twirler. It wasn't Mike's fault that the chemical workers won the tilt. DeRisi was in there twirling his best. His mates did some very sloppy fielding behind him, not one of the Rohm and Haas runs being earned. Seven hits was all the winners had and six were given free tickets to first.

Although St. Ann's did some poor playing in the pinches at times there were some very wonderful executed plays. In the third, Bill Thompson made an excellent stop of Massilla's grounder but threw a daisy-cutter to first but Pete Choma dug into the dirt and came up with the pill to retire the runner. The play checked Massilla off what would have been his fourth hit.

Massilla was the victim of a perfect throw in the fifth when after singling to start the frame tried to make third on a hit by Sullivan but Charlie Ibrig placed his throw directly to Dougherty to retire the base-runner. Rohm and Haas also completed two sparkling plays. Bunny Brunner used his speed to a great advantage in the fifth and came in fast for DeRisi's fly to rob the batter of a hit. Willie Ritter rubbed out Hoffman at third, in the sixth, by a good peg to Oppman at third, after catching Angelo's skier.

The leading batsman of the fray was "Jimmy" Massilla who smacked out a triple and two singles. His three-bagger came in the first with two runners on the bags. For St. Ann's, Joie Heftman had two out of three and Johnny Dougherty had two in four trips to the plate.

St. Ann's passed up plenty of scoring opportunities by poor judgment on the bases. Rohm and Haas played

Gasoline Dealers Work Two Days for Gov't to Pay Taxes

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22—Twenty-eight thousands gasoline retailers in Pennsylvania now work two days, without compensation, each week for government, according to W. Purves Taylor, Secretary of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania.

"There is a sales tax averaging 40 per cent on gasoline in Pennsylvania," Mr. Taylor announced today, "and this percentage applied to days of the week means that the gasoline retailer is working fully two days a week for government. Gasoline dealers have reached the conclusion that gasoline taxes are costing them entirely too much money. They handle the tax money, account for it and pay it to the government, largely at their own expense."

"No other group of retailers equals the number engaged in the retail sale of gasoline. No other division of the retail structure has an investment or a payroll that even remotely approaches the investment of the oil industry."

"When any single group of retailers is forced to work two days a week for government, they are working under a serious uneconomic handicap. Under such conditions, gross profits are cut to an unreasonable minimum and only the state and federal governments benefit."

"Gasoline retailers are now working co-operatively with consumers in a state-wide movement to reduce gasoline taxes. This movement embraces the removal of the state and federal 'emergency' taxes of 1-cent each. The movement is gaining steadily in momentum and force. Unless these two levies are removed within the next year, the largest group of retailers in the state face vanishing profits. Two million customers of the petroleum industry in Pennsylvania are backing the efforts of the gasoline retailers to reduce this dangerous tax burden."

Nights During Month of September

PLAN CHILDREN'S DAYEXHIBITS FOR DOYLESTOWN FAIR

Entries in all departments of the Doylestown Fair, to be held this year September 13 to 17, close Tuesday, September 13 at 6 p. m., except in the livestock classes which close September 1st. There is no entrance fee in any except the livestock departments.

All exhibits entered must be delivered to the respective departments on the Fair Grounds after 9 a. m. and before 5 p. m., Monday, September 12th, with the exception of Poultry and Rabbits which will be received up until 10 p. m. Exhibits in the Flower Show will be received between 8 a. m. and 10 a. m., Tuesday, September 13th only.

Premium Lists and entry blanks may be secured from the Secretary, J. Allen Gardy, 28 W. State street, Doylestown, Pa.

Preparations are going forward rapidly for the 16th Annual Doylestown Fair to be held for five days and five nights, September 13-17. The earlier dates have met with the enthusiastic approval of exhibitors, concessionaires, horsemen and spectators alike.

As usual the fair opens on Tuesday with a free Children's Day which will be featured this year by the National Barn Dance, a personal appearance of the famous radio unit from station WLS in Chicago.

The splendid horse racing program which extends over four days includes: Wednesday, two-year-old trot, two-year-old pace and 2:23 trot; Thursday, three-year-old trot, three-year-old pace, 2:23 pace; Friday, 2:17 trot and 2:17 pace; Saturday, Handicap Race, Handicap trot and a Classified event for horses that have started and not won better than third money during this meeting.

Thursday is "Doylestown Day" when all business houses in Doylestown and nearby towns will close at noon.

Again an elaborate stage show has been booked for the enjoyment of the night fair's patrons. This year a brand new revue, "The Revelations of 1938," will be featured before the grandstand every night. The day and night grandstand attractions are: D'Arcy Girls, Four Skating Girls, Bedell Troupe and Clayton Lampham and his Exposition Band—undoubtedly the greatest combination of acts the management has ever presented.

The amount of premiums offered exhibitors has been slightly increased and this should have the tendency to draw even more and better exhibits than usual. Doylestown has always been known as a "Farmer's Fair," and this year there has been a greatly increased demand for space by concerns wishing to exhibit farm machinery as well as other products.

It looks like the 16th Annual Doylestown Fair will be bigger and better than ever. Premium Lists and entry blanks may be secured by writing the Secretary, J. Allen Gardy, 28 W. State street, Doylestown, Pa.

Hunger Strike Ends

Philadelphia, Aug. 22—A four-day hunger strike by 650 of Holmesburg County Prison's 1500 inmates, collapsed today with all but 51 prisoners surrendering to the temptations of food.

"It is all over," declared Superintendent William B. Mills, announcing that only the 51 had passed up the bread and water diet and appeared at breakfast this morning.

The hold-outs, Mills said, would be continued on a bread and water diet "until we get ready to give them something else."

The strike began when prison officials declined to hear a prisoners' committee complaint that food at the institution lacked variety.

On Saturday

3 PRIESTS OFFICIATE

CROYDON, Aug. 22—The newly-erected Stations of the Cross, the only ones located outdoors in the diocese which embraces Bucks, Carbon, Montgomery and Chester counties, were blessed yesterday afternoon at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, here.

The rector, the Rev. Father Joseph B. Diamond, officiated at the ceremony, he being assisted by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Sullivan, of St. Thomas Church; and the Rev. Fr. Thomas Doyle, of Kansas City, Mo.

Four hundred people gathered on the grounds for the ceremony, the parishioners singing the Stations as they made their way from one to the other.

The Stations of the Cross were erected during the past few weeks beside the church of St. Thomas, the work being completed on Saturday.

The Stations are of a composition material, enclosed in replicas of chapels, the enclosures being of wood. They are painted aluminum on the outside, and maroon on the interior. The interior of one of the double doors on each Station is finished in Chinese red, and the interior of the second door in blue, these colors dating back 19 centuries to the time of Christ.

The one hour service was a most impressive one.

Weigel and Hilgendorf Wedding is Performed

A quiet wedding ceremony was performed Friday evening in St. James' Episcopal Church, Langhorne, by the Rev. Waldo Parker, when Miss Violet Winifred Hilgendorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hilgendorf, Edgely; became the bride of Ernest W. Weigel, Philadelphia, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Weigel, Sr., Boston, Mass.

The couple was attended by Miss Dora Thompson, Bristol, and Edward Hilgendorf, Edgely, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Weigel wore a white tailored suit with white accessories and carried a bridal bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and white roses. Miss Thompson was dressed in a tailored blue chiffon with pink accessories, and carried pink roses. The groom and best man were attired in white linen suits.

Mrs. Weigel is a teacher in the Bristol public schools, having graduated from the Bristol high school and West Chester State Teachers College. Mr. Weigel is an etymologist employed by the Federal government on Japanese beetle control. He was graduated from the University of New Hampshire.

A dinner was served to the bridal party, immediately following the ceremony at Washington Crossing Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Weigel will leave for an extended tour of the New England states, and Maine, and enroute will visit Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Weigel, Sr., in Boston.

Upon their return September 6th, they will be at home at 1651 Haworth street, Philadelphia.

Clean-Up Is Needed

(By "The Stroller")

A crew of men did cut down some of the weeds on some of the property of the P. R. R. Company, here. The weeds on the banks of the "highline" along Garden street, however, have not as yet been touched.

The growth of grass and weeds along the banks of the "highline" facing Garden street, in our opinion, should be cut down and should be kept that way. Residents along that street certainly do not approve of this outlook.

Wouldn't it be a fine improvement if grass was kept in fairly decent condition along the elevated banks of the P. R. R. "highline" through Bristol?

There was a time once when the P. R. R. property in Bristol was really kept in good condition. Remember the grass plots and the flower beds which added to the attractiveness of the passenger station, when it was located at Pond and Market streets?

Why not now?
The surroundings of the station here certainly need cleaning up.

HIGHWAY BRIDGE
AT FALLSINGTON WILL SOON OPEN

Will Be Finished Within The Next Ten Days, It Is Believed

THE FINISHING TOUCHES

$300,000 Span is Largest of Its Type in This Part of The State

FALLSINGTON, Aug. 22—Without any more weather delays the new bridge at Fallsington, which will carry Lincoln Highway traffic over the Pennsylvania Railroad instead of under the tunnel at this point, will be finished within the next ten days, or at any event will be open before Labor Day, according to a statement issued by W. R. Eccles, project engineer.

Finishing touches on the approaches to the new $300,000 bridge, which is said to be the largest of its type in this part of the State, are now being made. The slopes on both approaches are being dressed. Guard rails on the eastern approach have been put in and those on the west approach will be put in within a day or two. Cables must then be strung through the posts and the posts will receive three coats of paint.

Approximately 30 men are still busy making the final general finishing touches to the bridge and approaches. During most of the days of its construction there were approximately 100 men employed on the bridge. Work on the structure began last November and called for a finish in 125 work days. According to Eccles the work will be finished ahead of schedule.

The bridge, which is 537 feet in length, has a 44-foot traffic section and a 5-foot sidewalk for pedestrians. The approaches, the east one being 1800 feet in length and the west approach 1500 feet are constructed exactly as the highway on either side, outside lanes being concrete and the center section being asphalt.

More than 1½ million tons of structural steel were used in the bridge and in addition there was 200,000 pounds of re-enforcing steel used.

The old route on the Lincoln Highway at this point carried traffic through a tunnel under the railroad. The "s"-bend was the scene of numerous fatal accidents. The new overpass will almost completely straighten this stretch of highway. The underpass will still remain open, but the concrete on the curve on the west side will be torn up. A road which will carry traffic from Fallsington to the new highway will cross at right angles and continue under the old tunnel.

SELLERSVILLE, Aug. 22—As he rose to make his acceptance speech following his election as president at the fourth annual reunion of the descendants of John Harr in Hiltown township yesterday, Harry Renner, 58, of North Wales, was fatally stricken with a heart attack.

More than 100 persons attending the reunion on the Horace Hunsberger farm sat stunned as Renner collapsed. Dr. Charles Burkhardt was summoned, but found the man had died almost immediately. His son, Clarence, had been named treasurer at the same election. Friends said a daughter, Mrs. Harry Collinsford, of North Wales, is seriously ill in Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia.

Havens was arrested as he drove up to the home of a girl friend. Police found a gun in his car and charged him with carrying concealed weapons. He was awaiting trial in the Abington burglaries under $1500 bail. James Dorsey, 29, of Weehawken, N. J., a friend, also was arrested.

NO WAR YET

The decision of both Moscow and Tokyo to be reasonable for the time being seems to snuff out once more the fuse that most of the world sees as leading to the ultimate grand explosion.

Much is left to be explained, and some day may be, as to which of the two countries in this instance was playing with fire. Their accusations and counter-accusations are inconclusive. There were no neutral witnesses to the recent "incident" which became a pitched battle indistinguishable from open war. And the inability to identify the initiator of the affair—although China is a pretty good clue—makes it futile to speculate on the ulterior purposes which almost certainly underlay it.

The impending settlement, if it eventuates, will be a welcome but a very minor triumph for rational dealing between nations. Boundary disputes that are no more than that are the easiest of international issues to deal with rationally. They are matters to which an arbitrator easily may apply the rules of evidence, with historical material, maps and treaties supplying the raw materials of justice.

But no one is so naive as to believe that this dispute is, except superficially, one of that sort. The world can be thankful there will be no present explosion of the deepening rivalries of Japan and Russia on the Asiatic continent. But none can believe, unhappily, that settlement of the precise location of the Manchukuo-Siberian border at Changkufeng will settle more than merely that.

PRIDE OF INDEPENDENCE

A young man of Edwardsville, Ill., approached the welfare superintendent there to protest—on his own and his mother's behalf—that there was no need of the monthly old-age assistance checks she had been receiving, as he, even with his small salary, was more than willing to support her.

"Proud" is perhaps a better word than "willing" here. He returned to the superintendent $225, representing seventeen monthly checks which his mother had not cashed.

This spirit of independence is striking in an age when the government seems popularly conceived to owe practically everybody a living; and when the traditional American aspiration to self-support stands in a fair way of being plowed under. Insofar as the Edwardsville (Ill.) mother and son are concerned, pride and independence have not been plowed under.

To swing or not to swing is a burning question in the world of dance and music. When the fire is put out there will be other problems almost as serious, ad infinitum.

New York has proof that it is no one-horse town. The latest equine census shows the city has 10,000 horses as against 250,000 some 40 years ago.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Jan. 25, 1877. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

On Monday and Tuesday, there were trials of steam fire engines at Burlington. A large number of Bristol people went over to witness the spectacle. There were only two kinds of engines tried, the "Clapp and Jones" and the "LaFrance." The committee having the matter in charge concluded on Wednesday to purchase one of the "LaFrance" engines. So that is the result of all the testing of engines thus far. It is their intention to buy another steamer in addition to the one they have agreed to take, and whether they will get another "LaFrance" or have another competitive trial between the different engine manufacturers before choosing is not definitely known.

"Sunnyside," the parsonage of the Baptist Church, was visited by the members and congregation last Friday evening. Many tokens of a substantial character, such as dry goods, groceries and greenbacks were left as evidences of the esteem in which the pastor, Rev. W. H. Conard, and his wife, are held.

Joshua Peirce has commenced the erection of three houses on Logan street.

The family of the Hon. S. B. Conover, United States Senator from Florida, left Bristol Tuesday for Washington.

Fred Quicksell, a young lad, son of Capt. Joseph Quicksell, together with two companions, went upon the ice on the marsh below the canal basin, on Tuesday, and the ice giving way Fred was suddenly foundering in the water, and would have drowned had not his two friends succeeded in getting him out. One of them, who was of very light weight, went cautiously out on the ice far enough to reach Quicksell's hand, and then the other boy standing upon the shore took hold of his hand, and giving a vigorous pull effected the rescue successfully.

Mr. William Henry Goodyear delivered a lecture at the Friends' School House, before the Bristol Institute, on Saturday evening, upon "Goethe."

The annual meeting of the Cottage Building Association took place on Monday evening. The sixth annual report was presented to the meeting and showed the whole amount of loans to be $76,400, amount of dues, interests and fines received during the year $14,950.60. Loans made last year $15,200, and the value of each $96.25. The old officers were selected and are as follows: President, Joshua Peirce; secretary, Samuel Swain; treasurer, C. T. Iredell; directors, C. W. Peirce, Jr., B. C. Foster, James V. Foster, Charles F. Brudon, John Milnor and Joseph B. Bailey.

NEWPORTVILLE—A grand birthday party was given by Mrs. J. Madison Bollenau, on Tuesday. It was quite a merry gathering, the young folks enjoying themselves in the graceful dance and other amusements.

A goodly number of our young men and maidens attended the meeting in Union Hall last Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing the lyceum for the winter. Yesterday evening another meeting was held, and Ne-shaminy Lyceum was the name adopted. The following officers were elected: President, Charles W. P. Banks; vice-president, John Craven; secretary, Frank Hawk; treasurer, William R. Vandegrift; executive committee, William Howard; William Linhorst and Albert Gosline. Sallie Vandegrift was elected editor.

LANGHORNE—The sidewalks have not been effectually cleaned, and the middle of the street is the favorite route for pedestrians.

Already there is much agitation among the families that feel it a duty and a necessity to move every year, as houses of moderate size are in demand. The impetus to business which is anticipated the coming spring, and engendered by the railroad, has brought a feeling of activity to the hearts of men, and a time of prosperity is to be realized.

WARMINSTER—O. W. Minard, who at one time carried on the extensive works of manufacturing agricultural machinery at Johnsville, will set sail for Europe this week. He expects to return about the first week of April, and intends to visit France, Italy and Switzerland, and to spend the greater part of his time in the manufacturing of England. He is about 60 years of age.

Bleasdale, candidates for general assembly, will also attend. Thomas Logie, candidate for secretary of internal affairs, who was expected to be present, will be out of the state at that time.

One night last week Richard Hager, who lives with his uncle, "Andy" Schuler, on North Ninth street, Perkasie, killed a bat in the kitchen of the Schuler home and for 24 hours the family was trying to figure out just how the bat found its way into the kitchen. The next night they heard strange noises in the stove pipe that leads from the kitchen range to the chimney and the mystery of the bat in the kitchen was solved. Said "Andy": "That's another bat. They come down the chimney and through the stove pipe into the stove and thence to the kitchen." The strange noises ceased and the incident was forgotten but again the next day and the next at infrequent intervals the noises were heard and finally "Andy" went "a-battin'." He removed the pipe from the chimney piece by piece until he had reached the stove but he found no bats. He decided to go further and he opened the "clean out" flue on the range and began removing the soot. Presently he came upon something bulky as well as stubborn but with persistent effort he finally drew the object to the opening, and to his amazement discovered that the transgressor was a full-grown, red-headed woodpecker.

Approval of Fine Work Done Through Cadet Corp Expressed in Endorsements

the past years has indeed raised Bristol to an edifying height in the esteem of outlying cities and communities.

The success with which they competed at the various conventions, both state and national, is an indication of the fine training they receive. As training and discipline are sadly lacking in many of the modern boys, this organization is doing a great deal to remedy this unfortunate situation.

These facts alone are sufficient to solicit my co-operation. As for the campaign I not only endorse it but feel it is the duty of every resident of Bristol to show their appreciation of the splendid work that is being done by these boys by contributing to this campaign.

In token of my personal appreciation you will find inclosed a small contribution with deep regret that I am unable to give more at this time.

With sincere best wishes for success, I am,

Very truly yours,
LINFORD J. JONES,
Chief of Police.

Bugle Corps Maintenance Fund,
Bristol, Penna.
Gentlemen:

Please accept my check for ten dollars towards your maintenance fund, for the American Legion Cadets.

Knowing the good work you are accomplishing towards the youth of our community by instilling into their immature minds the real American spirit to become law-abiding, I am sure that with more work of this kind the less crime we would have. With

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL
Copyright, 1938
King Features Syndicate, Inc.

HOLLYWOOD—Lights! Camera! Action! Strange how things work out. A scene in "Sweethearts" helps Nelson Eddy carry on a tradition that goes back in his family for several generations.

Nelson Eddy

The star and 80 men, resplendent in the uniforms of the President's Marine band, are out before a technicolor camera to record the number "On Parade."

The scene is supposed to be in the offices of a phonograph company and, Eddy, a musical comedy star, is out in front of the band, singing the number.

The star wears a scarlet coat with the sleeve markings of a drum major in the famous organization.

H. H. Florida, who really is drum major in President Roosevelt's Marine band and who has flown out from Washington to keep an eye on the scene, watches from behind the camera.

To make the martial atmosphere complete, Director W. S. Van Dyke has donned his full dress uniform as a major in the Marine corps reserve.

After the scene is over, Eddy reveals that his wearing of the uniform is an unusual coincidence.

For his father, William Darius Eddy, once was a drum major with the First Regimental band of Rhode Island and his grandfather Eddy was a drummer with another military unit, the Reeves American band.

For a scene in "Angels With Dirty Faces", Warner Brothers have borrowed certain ideas from the siege and capture several years ago of "Two Gun" Crowley, noted public enemy.

James Cagney, the gangster in the picture, has been run to earth in a furniture warehouse. Dozens of policemen have surrounded it and are using pistols, rifles, machine guns and tear gas to disodge the hunted man. This particular scene is where Pat O'Brien, a priest, goes into the building to persuade Cagney to surrender. Cagney pretends to fall in with the plan, then puts two guns to the priest's back and comes out using him as a shield. When they reach the alley, he suddenly shoves the priest away from him and makes a break for it.

This is one of the climactic scenes in the picture and Director Michael Curtiz must have realism. The first take is no good because Cagney shoves O'Brien too lightly. It doesn't look real. They try it again. Still, the shove isn't violent enough to suit Curtiz.

On the third take, Cagney really puts some muscle into it. O'Brien goes flying, lands on his hands and knees and skids on the pavement. "Okay," yells Curtiz, "That's fine!"

It ought to be, for when O'Brien gets up his elbows and knees are scraped and bleeding. They have to send him to the studio first aid station to get patched up.

On another Warner sound stage, they are shooting a scene for the new Dick Powell picture, "Going Places".

It is in the interior of a sporting goods store and Powell is a salesman demonstrating a mechanical horse.

If your memory is good, you'll notice a marked similarity between this picture and "The Hottentot".

Powell, who never has ridden anything but the mechanical horse, gets mixed up in a real steeplechase.

To this extent, the character is like the one he played in "The Cowboy From Brooklyn". In that film, he had to ride though he was deathly afraid of horses.

Pretty soon, says Dick, the fans will believe he actually is a tenderfoot rider. This isn't true at all. For Dick played polo for several years until Warners made him give it up.

woman to go swimming above the Arctic Circle.

The Illinois woman was in Chandalier, 75 miles north of the Circle, with a party of tourists.

The temperature jumped to 90, and she jumped into Squaw lake, reporting the water "swell."

THE THREE BUDGETEERS

"Oh, dear," sighed the first, "I'm so tired.

I finally found out what I wanted, but I'm worn out."

"It's lovely," sighed the second, "but I paid more than I wanted to."

"It's easy," said the third. "I've been studying the advertisements for days, and I knew where to look for what I wanted—and how much I'd have to pay."

ON SCREENS IN BRISTOL

GRAND

RKO Radio's film version of Arthur Kober's Broadway stage hit, "Having Wonderful Time," which had its initial showing yesterday at the Grand Theatre, brings Ginger Rogers and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in a triumphant, co-starring drama with comedy.

The story is a simple but human chronicle of two young people frantically trying to grasp a few hours of blissful romance in a vacation camp.

Ginger Rogers is ideally cast as a stenographer weary of a nagging family and a sanctimonious fiancé. She meets Fairbanks, an impoverished law student working as a waiter. The nervewrecked secretary and the young man immediately clash, but their petty feuding soon turns into mutual respect and genuine love. It is the rocky progress of their romance against various obstacles, including the fact that the student cannot afford to finance a matrimonial venture, that forms the central theme of this fast-paced screen attraction.

BRISTOL

Castanets clicked, guitars chimed in the moonlight and darkeyed senoritas winked from beneath their mantillas as romantic Mexico reached town in the new musical comedy, "Tropic Holiday," which has its local opening at the Bristol Theatre today.

The picturesque land below the Rio Grande, now brought to the screen for the first time in all its native color, forms a delightful background for the doings of a spirited cast of Hollywood favorites, headed by Dorothy Lamour, Ray Milland, Bob Burns and Martha Raye.

The story tells of a bored young movie script writer, played by Milland, who dashes away to rural Mexico to "get away from it all." Although he hopes to gather material for a new picture, he soon succumbs to the spell of lazy tropical skies and the beauty of a native daughter, Miss Lamour. The spell is not broken until his Hollywood fiancée swoops down upon him by airplane and forces him to choose between a return to his work and the land he has grown to love. His decision is just what yours would be under the circumstances.

"CAMEL" BRESLIN GOES TO SALISBURY, PLAYING TONIGHT

Bristol Ball Player Signs Up With Joe Cambria's Club

IS WELL THOUGHT OF

Says Bristol Boy Has Speed, "Deadly" Arm, and Can Hit

John "Camel" Breslin, of Bristol, for the past two years left fielder for the Landreth Seeds, has accepted terms with Salisbury, Md., Eastern Shore League club, and left today.

Breslin will play his first game under the lights tonight at 8.30 at Salisbury.

Breslin was scouted by Joe Cambria, owner of the Salisbury club; also Greenfield, Southern Association; St. Augustine, Florida State League; and Trenton, Eastern League.

Cambria thinks Breslin is a capable player, and he was much impressed with the Bristol boy's hitting, speed, and his "deadly" arm.

Breslin stole the show in the Raphael game in Philadelphia yesterday.

Alex Pitko graduated from Landreth's last year and is now playing left field with Montgomery, in the Southern Association.

LANDRETH IX DEFEATS POINT BREEZE, 4 TO 1

The Point Breeze A. C. of Philadelphia, accompanied by a bus load of followers, invaded Landreth Ball Park Saturday. They were all "pepped up" and ready to go long before starting time. They rent the air with their noise and cheers throughout the entire game but it was to no avail. The Farmers won, 4 to 1.

Landreth's landed on the delivery of Sword, the visiting pitcher, early and scored all their runs.

In the opening inning, Liberatore and Lodge singled, Liberatore stole third, Harwi worked for pass and got it, loading the bases. Griggs fled out to center field, scoring Liberatore.

Hibbs counted for Landreth in the second. Hitting safely, he stole second and counted on Paul's hit.

Breslin made the longest hit of the game in the fourth when he tripled over Wak's head in center, Hibbs' long single to left center scoring the Seeds' third run.

Fourth and final run coming in the fifth inning was a gift. Lodge hit to right field, advanced to second when Olexa threw Marw's grounder wild, scoring later as Wise missed Breslin's grounder.

Jake Paul, pitching his second game for Landreth secured on his way to another shut out victory till the sixth when he was beamed by one of the visiting pitchers wild shoots, while taking his time at bat. He had limited the visitors to three hits up until this time—one of these was a scratch, a ball that Leo Hibbs allowed to drop at his feet when "Old Sol" obscured his vision.

When Paul took to the mound in the next inning, Wise hit for two bases and Kranack singled to score Point Breeze's only run. The visitors loaded the bases in the ninth but failed to score. Mullikan and Wise singled, Black dropped a short fly in right field and Lodge threw to Zefferies to force Wise, Kranack hit by a pitched ball loaded the bases. Paul fanned Berry and then Eddie Liberatore traveled deep back of second to coral Zazu's fly ending the game.

Breslin made the feature play of the game in the fifth inning when he made a spectacular catch of Berry's short fly back of third base after a long run.

Zefferies and Liberatore fielded well for Landreth's. Zefferies started two fast double plays one in the fourth and one in the fifth inning while Liberatore took care of ten chances at the keystone sack.

Howard Wise, Ursinus varsity first baseman, made four hits for the visitors.

RECOMMENDED FOR DEGREE

BUDASSI TO MEET PETROVITCH TONIGHT

Out to redeem himself in the eyes of the followers of the local amateur boxing sport, Freddie Budassi, sensational St. Ann's glover, will meet Alex Petrovitch, of the West Chester Boys' Club, tonight, in one of the top-notch bouts booked for the St. Ann's A. A. outdoor arena, Wood and Franklin streets.

Budassi was going good until last week when he went up against a south-paw and did not dance around his opponent in the correct manner, with the result that before the first round was over Budassi was kayoed. Now, he sees his mistake and is ready for all-comers in his division, starting with Petrovitch.

For the wind-up tonight, Match-Maker Johnny Straffe has matched Tony Szymurski, West Chester, with Joe Myers, Crofton. Myers has been hankering for a bout for three weeks, but at the last minute all of his opponents have either been disqualified or something else happened. Tonight he is practically assured of his bout and will be out for a triumph.

One of the hardest hitting heavyweights in the amateurs, Leon Szymurski, brother of Tony Szymurski, is booked for the semi-windup. He is fighting the only boy who is not afraid to meet him—Ernest Henry, of the John Marquis Club. This bout should be interesting from start to finish because of the "natural" rivalry of the sections from which the boys hail.

Hardly any St. Ann's show is complete without Hokey Leighton, Rescue Squad. Hokey will be in there tonight against Johnny Esterling, John Marquis Club. Esterling is capable of giving a tough battle to any leading 130-pounder in the game, and is out to wallop the pride of the local fight patrons. Leighton will have to do quite a bit of stepping to keep up with Esterling.

Carl Shaum, St. Ann's, who exhibited one of the hardest blows ever produced here, last week, is back again. This time he is meeting a real tough hombre in the person of Joseph Cattell, John Marquis Club. Cattell is one of the leading 126 pounders in the amateur ranks today, and so Shaum will need his mule-kick punch if he intends to win.

The bouts will open with Carl Spinelli, St. Ann's, meeting the novice, Joseph Tilli, unattached. Spinelli fought Tilli last week and was declared the winner in a questionable decision. Tonight he wants to show the fans that he is no dud and really intends to knock out Tilli. Tilli floored the local boy last week.

Steve Litus, who has been resting for several weeks, will be back, meeting Harry Komus, West Chester. Litus is a slight favorite in this bout, but if Komus lands one of his wild-swinging blows, it will be curtains for the St. Ann's glover.

The first bout will go on at 8.30 o'clock, sharp.

RAPHAEL WALLOPED BY LANDRETH NINE

Yesterday in Philadelphia at 58th & Elmwood avenue, Landreth's Seeds administered to Raphael the worst licking ever given a supposedly good ball club in Philadelphia, the score being 25 to 1.

Walter Masterson was on the mound for the Farmers and struck out 16 batters and allowed only one hit, that by Casper in the second inning, a bounding ball over second base that Liberatore almost stopped. The home club's only run came in the fourth inning, when after two men were out, Masterson walked H. Dougherty and he scored on an error by Lodge. The Farmers scored 13 runs in the first inning, each man batting twice. They also had a big inning in the seventh getting seven runs when eleven men went to bat. The leading hitter was Campbell Breslin, who had two bases on balls, two singles, a double and a home run. Costello, Griggs, Lodge and Liberatore also helped themselves to three hits. Landreth knocked out two pitchers in the first inning and two pitchers in the seventh.

Masterson was unhittable. When he did not strike out the Raphael batters they popped up little flies.

Thursday night at six o'clock Landreth plays South Philadelphia, the team that played the Farmers a 5-5 tie here three weeks ago and beat them in Philadelphia last Saturday a week 3-0.

HULMEVILLE A. A. TO PLAY BENEFIT GAME

The old Hulmeville A. A. team, the one that won the championship of the Lower Bucks County Twilight League and the Delaware River League, will again be organized. But it is for but one game.

Howard Black, star pitcher of that championship club and also the manager, is getting the players together for the purpose of playing a benefit game for George Dougherty, well-known baseball and football player of this borough.

The game will be played on the Rohm & Haas diamond, Wednesday night, with the Rohm & Haas team, second-half champions of the Bristol Twilight League, being the opposing club.

Quite a bit of interest is being lived into the affair, and a large crowd is anticipated because of the nature of the affair.

Manager Black promises the fans that he will attempt to secure the entire championship Hulmeville team with himself pitching and "Dutch" Afterback doing the receiving. His entire lineup will be released Wednesday.

heads-up baseball and took advantage of every possible break to score and also catch the St. Ann's base-runners while they were napping.

After Sullivan had retired the St. Ann's batter in one, two, three order, fanning Dougherty and Roe and getting Thompson on a grounder, Rohm and Haas pushed over two runs in the initial frame. Brunner reached base on an error by Bill Dougherty. G. Ritter sacrificed the runner to second.

Dougherty was passed, Massilla socked out a tremendous triple to left, scoring Brunner and Dougherty. Sullivan was passed but Oppman whiffed and Gallagher fled out to short.

For the St. Ann's second, Choma struck out and DeRisi and Ithig rolled out. Rohm and Haas got Ritter on base via a hit but he was forced by Brunner and Ritter grounded out. Locke had started the inning by whiffing.

Poor base-running caused St. Ann's a run in the third. Heftman opened with a hit and went to second when Ritter played the sphere poorly. Heftman was caught off second, Sullivan to Oppman. Angelo reached base on an error by Massilla but went out attempting to steal. Dougherty to Ritter. B. Dougherty struck out. Massilla and Dougherty rolled out and Sullivan lifted a fly to Ithig for Rohm and Haas.

Sullivan had an easy time in the St. Ann's fourth, fanning Dougherty and Roe and retiring Thompson on a base to Locke. Rohm and Haas scored its third tally. Oppman was passed.

Gallagher went down on strikes. Locke hit to Heftman who tagged out Oppman but dropped the ball. W. Ritter hit safely to left, counting Oppman. Brunner was thrown out by Dougherty and G. Ritter whiffed.

Choma singled to start the St. Ann's fifth. DeRisi hit to short left but Brunner made a beautiful catch. Ithig hit into a double play. Massilla to Locke. Dougherty fled out for Rohm and Haas but Massilla hit a single to center. Sullivan also hit a single to center but on Ithig's throw to Dougherty, Massilla was out. Oppman's fly went to Johnny Dougherty.

Another scoring chance went to waste in the St. Ann's sixth. Heftman opened with a double to center. Angelo fled to center, but Heftman was out trying for third after the catch. Bill Dougherty singled to left. G. Ritter made a nice stab at J. Dougherty's liner and almost had a force play at second. Rohm and Haas registered a run in their part. Gallagher walked. Massilla was sacrificed to second, went to third as W. Ritter was being thrown out and counted on B. Dougherty's miscue of Brunner's grounder. G. Ritter fled to Ithig.

Roe, Choma and DeRisi could not help the St. Ann's cause in the seventh. For Rohm and Haas, Johnny Dougherty fled to right. Massilla singled to center but was wiped up in a double-play, Thompson to Heftman to Choma.

Ithig and Angelo rolled out and Heft hit a short fly to short in the eighth for St. Ann's. Rohm and Haas counted twice. After Oppman grounded out, Gallagher and Locke drew passes. Gallagher stole second and third. Ritter fled to second. Gallagher made an attempt for home and then went back only to find Locke there at the hot corner. Angelo had the runners trapped but threw the ball into left, scoring both runners. G. Ritter hit to Dougherty and was tossed out at first.

St. Ann's threatened in the last frame. Dougherty struck out. J. Dougherty got a hit past third. Thompson was passed. Roe struck out and Choma ended the game by rolling out to Locke.

The next game will be played Saturday on Landreth's field.

Dear Diary---

What a Summer this has been! Our family has never had so much fun. Picnics, and beach-parties, and trips, of course. But for the first time we've really enjoyed our home. Dad and Mother have done wonders. A new porch swing and gay cretonne covers for the furniture. A croquet set for the garden, shuffleboard in the garage. My room done over—I helped with that! A sand-pile and gym corner for Bobby. Mother is mildly amazed that all this cost so little. Dad takes credit for that—he's a rabid ad-reader, and when the time came knew just what and where he could buy advantageously.

Of course, I've always been thataway too! When one has such a small allowance one soon learns to do preliminary shopping in the newspaper advertisements. And I know it was that darling blue evening frock I bought "as advertised" that brought Midshipman Duncan to his knees!

What a glorious Summer . . . thanks to our favorite newspaper and its ads!
